Course Description:

For those in the early stages of their studies, Lori's workshop is ideal. Participants in her class are always amazed at the progress they make. There is provision for absolute beginners, as well as those who have studied only for a short time, or who feel they want to review the basics. Bring your enthusiasm and your harp and leave inspired with a few tunes, some technical and compositional skills and a week of fun "under your belt."

Instructor Bio:

Lori Pappajohn is known for her impeccable teaching skills and her great humour. She has taught numerous Beginner Harp courses at IMA inspiring many newcomers to play this enchanting instrument. Director of the wildly popular Winter Harp Ensemble, Lori has performed in Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, Greece, Chile and the US. Her former ensemble, Harps International, which was sponsored by Columbia Artists of New York, was featured at the International Jazz and Pop Harp Conference, the World Harp Congress and the International Folk Harp Conference. Nominated BC Touring Artist of 2008, Lori specializes in styles ranging from Celtic to Latin to World, often integrating harp with percussion, singing, medieval instruments and storytelling. Lori was nominated in 2008 for Performer of the year and has eight world-class albums.
